

License Agreement Heritage Library

We carefully selected the content of our Heritage Library and only used resources we believe are in the public domain and therefore copyright free and available to everyone with a CC0 license. In general this means you are allowed to use the resources in any personal and commercial projects for yourself or your clients. You may modify the resources according to your requirements and include them in works such as applications, print materials, websites and others.

Learn more about the CC0 license here: <https://creativecommons.org/publicdomain/zero/1.0/>

Limit of Liability

Even though we were really careful to only use public domain resources, we can not guarantee that the content of the Heritage Library is copyright free, so it is your responsibility to ensure it is ok to use it in your country, is suitable for your application and does not infringe any rights. In no event HTC Heritage Type GmbH will be liable to you for any consequential or incidental damages, including any lost revenue, profits, goodwill or savings, or for any claim by any third party.

Restrictions

As this content is edited, traced or revised you do not have the rights to resell, sublicense or redistribute (even for free) the files on your own or as a separate attachment. If you want to promote our resources on your website we really appreciate it, but you have to link back to our resource page where users can find the download.

You Can

- ✓ Edit Resources
